The work of securing a jury to try M. W. Denney for the murder of John Rowles, which had been interrupted twice previously by the exhausting, first of the regular panel of fifty seven jurors, and for the second time Tuesday afternoon when Sheriff McCloskey's special venire of twenty-four was put through the mill and only one of the number added to the nine already secured, was resumed at 1:30 this afternoon, with the second special venire of twenty-four jurors summoned by the sheriff last night in their places ready to go upon the stand and attempt to pass the battery of lawyers primed for the occasion.

The examination of the list of jurors by court and the attorneys took up a half hour's time and at 1:45 W. W. Stewart, of Cooper, the first juror of the new venire was called. He was taken in hand by Ex-Judge Smith for the commonwealth and given a searching examination, by him and by Mr. Liveright for the defense. "I answered every question satisfactorily and was accepted as

Juror No. 11 at 2:10 p. m. After examining several other jurors the twelfth and final juror was accepted in person of Frank Washburn of Morris township. The court has been since Monday noon until 3 p. m. this afternoon finding twelve men to try Wm. Denney for the murder of Rowles. After swearing in Mr. Washburn a recess was taken for ten minutes to enable everybody to have a breathing spell after the arduous task of examining over ninety jurors.

Through the window of the jury room, the jurors could be seen perusing letters to wives and loved ones in preparation for their imprisonment in the jury box and jury room. Some of the jurors appear to have a tired look already, particularly the unfortunate ones who were selected last Monday and have been forced to sit through the examinations of others. It is quite a safe prediction to say that Sunday will see these men still doing jury duty on the same case. A full account of the trial will be given in tomorrow's Progress.

Boy Murderer to Have "Official" Mother

District Attorney Will Appoint One
To Look After Him

New Orleans, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—Willie Zimmer is to have an "official mother" to take the place of the one he murdered. She will be appointed next week by District Attorney Luceberg to mother Willie. Willie has lost some of his sulkiness as a result of the notoriety he has received and he has acquired a little dignity, and showed a sense of philosophy when he heard of the official mother plan. "You can't get another mother when your regular mother is dead," he said. "A fellow only has one mother and I killed mine."

He seemed to take indifferently the murder of his mother whom he murdered when she raised a broom to chastise him.

Will you be good to your new mother he was asked.

"Certainly," he replied, "but will she have an automobile," he asked. "I have always longed all my life for a 'regular motor ride.' The only ones I get are the ones I swipe on the back of big motor trucks. He then started to talk of movies. He said that Mary Pickford was his favorite film star and he hoped to go to see her when he got his new mother."

Zanesville, O., Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—Resolutions urging the governor and state legislature to enact more stringent divorce laws were to be adopted by more than 500 ministers and laymen of the Ohio Methodist conference in annual session here today, which will continue through Saturday.

The West Ohio Methodist conference meeting at Lima two weeks ago adopted a similar resolution.

A resolution favoring the constitutional amendment for national prohibition also will be adopted.

Isadore Lipex will spend the holidays at Altoona.

HORSE RAISERS PROSPERING IN SPITE OF MOTORS

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—The European war has caused such a scarcity of horses in the United States that farmers who raise the adaptable Belgian, whose weight range from 1200 to 1500 pounds, makes it an excellent cavalry or police mount, are putting a high price on the animals which at the present time is being accepted by the horse dealer.

Who? thousands of Percherons and Belgians, weighing from 1500 to 1800 pounds are at present employed in drawing cannon and ammunition wagons on the battlefields, they are not so commonly used here in the lighter animal.

A cross between Percheron stock and the American horses makes an almost ideal general purpose animal, and a well matched team will bring from $500 to $600, where formerly a team could be purchased at $200 to $300. There is no importation of horses at this time and therefore, American farmers are short of the adaptable Belgians, which in part accounts for the increased value.

A SUGGESTION AND AN OFFER

The dreaded infantile paralysis scourge has abated to such an extent that the Commissioner of Health has seen fit to authorize the lifting of the quarantine forbidding attendance at Sunday School of those under the age of sixteen years. All will rejoice in this piece of news, and especially officers of schools that have been disorganized through the enforcement of the quarantine.

A number of Sunday Schools in this city and in this county have already made plans for a big Rally day to be observed next Sunday in celebration of the event and others are considering it at this time. It is very fitting and proper that Sunday Schools take advantage of this opportunity for a grand rally of all their former scholars.

We suggest that every Sunday School in Clearfield, Curwensville, Woodland and every town in this county lay plans at once to gather back to their fold those who have been forced to forego the pleasure of attending Sunday School. We further suggest that the different Sunday School superintendents get busy this very evening on this proposition and make a concerted effort towards getting every available man, woman and child to attend Sunday School next Sunday.

Provided the Sunday School superintendents take our suggestion, we offer to print, without charge, any publicity matter they may prepare, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The articles or advertisements, of you choose to call it that, can be prepared by a committee representing the different Sunday Schools of Clearfield. Remember however that time is short and the offering of the committee must be in our hands tomorrow morning.

In our rounds we have been able to see a few men interested in Sunday School work and they are enthusiastic over this idea. We have no doubt that the Daily Spirit will lend their valuable aid to the movement.

JAPAN LOOKING FORWARD TO WAR'S END

In Meeting at Tokio Chamber of Commerce Takes Action
in Regard to Tariffs

JAPAN AND BRITAIN JOIN

Tokyo, Sept. 27.—(By Mail)—After the war the Allies should have uniform, comparatively low tariff wall for each other and a higher tariff wall for the rest of the world, according to resolutions adopted at the annual congress of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Japan whose meeting had adjourned at Tokyo.

The congress endorsed the wartime measures proposed by the Paris Economic conference, but expressed new desires as to the post-bellum policy.

"As regards post-bellum measures, the Entente Allies should protect themselves against commercial aggression by tariffs and other means and promote economic relations among themselves," state the resolutions. "For this purpose the Allies should freely open their national resources to each other, and should refrain from a preferential policy in the matter of import duties so far as the Allies themselves are concerned."

Then the resolutions express the belief that the Allies should amend their treatment of goods exported from Japan.

"The treaties between Japan and England or France are not impartial," the resolutions read, "in that there are fewer preferential tariffs on the other side than this. Such partiality should be corrected. Between Russia and Japan there are no preferential tariff arrangements, therefore, these arrangements should now be made."

"Regarding the preferential tariffs between one of the Allies and its Dominions, it is desirable that no Power of the Allies should establish preferential tariffs with its Dominions lest Japanese export trade be adversely affected."

The latter resolution evidently was voted with an eye to the preference extended to British goods by Canada and Australia.

Following is a suggestion made by the congress to British chambers of commerce

"Japan and Great Britain are co-operating to gain mutual benefits. The British trade orders should be carried out less rigorously, and the British chambers of commerce are asked to exert their influence to the

Routh & Swartzle the well known hardware and farm implement dealers, are about to embark in the automobile business on a large scale and have arranged to take over the building occupied by the Lee Garage company on the rear end of Dr. S. It is suggested to the Petrograd Chamber of Commerce that this body, in view of the especially friendly relations that exist today between Russia and Japan, take steps to remove the present obstacles to trade between these two nations. It is stated that the Russian ban on imports affects Japanese commerce to a considerable degree.

Copies of the resolutions have been sent all the Allied nations.

HUGHES BEGINS CAMPAIGN IN PENNA. TODAY

Speaks to Thousands of Steel
Men in Pittsburgh This Afternoon

VISITS "WORKSHOP OF WORLD"

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—This city gave Charles E. Hughes a cordial welcome this afternoon when he came to make five speeches at least, possibly six in the course of his automobile tour through the big industrial plants and at the Exposition hall. His voice which showed signs of weakness at Canton and elsewhere in Ohio was stronger after the comparatively restful period between Canton and Pittsburgh. He hopes that nothing will curtail his afternoon program. On leaving Canton his managers feared it might be necessary for him to cut the number of his speeches down before dinner time. A crowd of 10,000 greeted him at the Union depot and cheered heartily.

He is scheduled to address between 35,000 and 50,000 iron and steel workers. This morning he visited the "work shops of the world" at McKeesport and Homestead. Tonight at the Expo hall he will expound to his audience the principals of the Republican party. This afternoon he will visit the schools. Mrs. Hughes will not visit with him but will be the guest of the National Suffrage association at the William Penn hotel.

Our store will be closed all day Thursday and Friday, September 28 and 29, and October 7 on account of holiday.

CHARGES STILL UNSETTLED IN DEHASS CASE

Report From DuBois That Revolution Has Been Made Is Apparently Without Foundation

PHYSICIANS IN CHARGE NOW

The report from DuBois to the effect that all the charges against W. Rush DeHass, the former DuBois resident, who was arrested in Altoona and confessed to having been the man who robbed Clearfield hotels of a number of traveling bags, is a little bit premature according to Chief of Police McHenry.

During the three weeks Mr. DeHass had lost himself he was in this vicinity, alleging that he spent several nights in a barn at Barrett station. While here he had a check cashed for $2.50 at one store and another for $22.50 at another. Both were returned unpaid and in addition to the sums mentioned The Dimeling management wants reimbursement to the extent of $55 covering the value of the bags and their contents taken from that hotel, while the Witzner Inn demands $39.25 for their losses.

Chief McHenry swore out two warrants for Mr. DeHass and sent them to District Attorney Patterson of Blair county who notified the chief that the warrants had been placed in the hands of the sheriff of Blair county for service just as soon as Dr. Sommers of the Blair county hospital decided that Mr. DeHass' mental and physical condition was such that he could be taken away. He will then be brought to Clearfield to answer to these charges unless legislation is made in the meantime and the prosecution called off.

300,000 Out in New York Sympathy Strike

Jewish Holidays Render Complete Count Impossible

New York, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—Three hundred thousand workmen in greater New York were out today when a general strike of sympathizers of the street railway employees became effective today. Most of the Hebrew trades were represented and an accurate count cannot be given because of the Jewish New Year holidays. Longshore men who have been supporting the movement did not strike. Other organizations are expected to strike tomorrow.

TODAY BEGINNING OF JEWISH NEW YEAR

New York, Sept. 27.—Josh Kahan, the Jewish New York, begins this evening at sunset, and for two days will be observed by orthodox Jews throughout the world. The reformed, or unorthodox Jews, will celebrate one day at the beginning of the New Year.

The year that is ushered in is 5677. The event is second in importance in religious significance in the Hebrew faith, Easter, or the Feast of the Passover, being the first. From time immemorial, in the orthodox churches, the two days of Rosh Hashana have been observed with prayer and worship in almost exactly the same manner. It is a time especially set apart for repentance and purification.

At sunset the rabbis around the world will summon the Jewish believers to the synagogues with a blast upon the ram's horn, or shofar. The method of calling the congregation together has an especial symbolic significance. The use of the ram's horn dates back to the almost prehistoric days, shrouded in the half-light of tradition, when those musical instruments were about the only means which the wandering tribes of Israel, who were shepherds, possessed of calling to worship.

In the orthodox congregations, which cling most tenaciously to the old-time ritual, one of the customs is for the men to appear in the temples wearing shrouds to typify the significance of the day as a reminder of death. This part of the ritual is not now used in the reformed temples.

WAR AND THE FARMER

Does the farmer profit by the European war? Has it affected his prices, or is it only the manufacturers who have greatly prospered thereby? Of course, everyone knows that when times are good and the factories are running full time and paying good wages, there is a good demand for the products of the farm, but few realize the amount of food stuffs which it takes to feed the great European armies and those industrial armies whose entire time is devoted in Europe to manufacturing munitions of war. The figures throw some light on the question. During the first two years of the war the United States sold to the belligerents gunpowder, cartridges, explosives and firearms to the value of $523,000,000. But sold to them food stuffs to the value of $1,938,000,000 or nearly four times as much, measured in value, as of actual munitions of war. Can any intelligent man fail to appreciate what this has meant to the farmers of this country? Why, the value of the exports of food stuffs was sufficient to pay a net profit of $300 a year on 6,666,000 farms. When the war ends the 30,000,000 men now fighting and making ammunition in Europe will return to their normal pursuits. Now they are only consumers of food stuffs. Then a large percentage of them will become producers as well. The farmer is, therefore, as vitally interested in industrial preparedness as the mechanic and the artisan.

Today's Geographic Study of
The Great European War Zone

"The mysterious British 'tank', described as a car of death resembling a ponderous, slow-moving steel caterpillar, is the current 'enfant terrible' in the large family of strange engines of destruction sired by the God of War," says a bulletin issued today by the National Geographic society.

"The modern fighting man has been so schooled to expect unique and powerful inventions designed to destroy human life that the 'tanks' have inspired more curiosity than terror, but far different has been the story of the vast breed of monsters that have engendered panic in the hearts of soldiers in ages past.

"Reviewing the history of warfare among civilized nations, one of the earliest engines of destruction whose fame has been perpetuated on the pages of legendary epic, was the great wooden horse which the crafty Ulysses left on the plains of Ilium, and which the Trojans believed to be an offering sacred to the goddess Athena. Conceived by the false Simon, the Trojans razed their walls in order that the 'gift' of the Greeks might be brought into the city. After nightfall the warriors hidden inside the wooden animal crept out, threw open the gates of the city and admitted their companions, thus bringing about the destruction of the city of Priam and wreaking vengeance upon the people who had sheltered Paris and the fair but false Helen of Troy.

"An engine of war which emerges from the cloud of legend and takes its place among historical actualities was that employed by Alexander the Great in his seven-months' siege of the famous Phoenician metropolis, Tyre. This ancient city was strongly situated on an island and as there were no long range catapults in the fourth century before the Christian era, Alexander conceived the plan of building a mole or causeway from the mainland to the island. This engineering enterprise was hampered by the Tyrians who launched blazing ships against the assailants as the sank piles to hold in place the rock and debris that formed a roadway over which the army was to march.

In order to protect his construction corps Alexander devised an engine of war great towers covered with green hides. These were set up as shields against the floating flames of the enemy and the result was one of the memorable victories in Alexander's conquest of the eastern world.

"One of the most terrifying 'engines of war' of ancient times was the battle elephant employed by the Pyrrhus, Alexander's cousin, in the first of the famous 'Pyrrhic victories' over the Romans. Twenty of these huge beasts were used against the enemies of the Tarantines at the battle of Heraclea in 280 B. C. The strange, moving mountains of flesh caused a wave of fear to sweep over the Romans and they fled from the field of carnage, but after one experience with the animals their courage returned and henceforth the war elephant was more of a curiosity than an effective engine.

"One of the simplest and yet one of the most effective inventions of ancient times was the javelin with a point of soft iron employed by Julius Caesar in one of his Gallic wars. The Roman legionaries hurled these weapons against the shields of their enemies. The iron head penetrated the outer covering of bull's hide, but flattened out against the hardwood or metal back of the shield, and thus became hooked to this protector. The shanks of the dangling javelins so impeded the movements of the barbarian soldiers that they were forced either to throw away their shields and fight in close order against the Romans or else stop long enough to disencumber themselves from this unique weapon which may properly be called the dum-dum javelin, the progenitor of the soft-nose or dum-dum bullet of today.

"Perhaps the strangest engines of destruction in the history of the world were the seven trumpets of ram's horn which the priests of Israel blew

as they encompassed the walls of Jericho once each day for six successive days and seven times on the seventh day. After the final blast the hosts of Israel gave a great shout and the walls fell flat, according to the Biblical account in the Book of Joshua. Those who endeavor to explain all miracles on the theory that they are the result of extraordinary applications of the natural law have seen in this remarkable event a demonstration of the vast destructive power of sympathetic vibration—the same principal which has been known to shake to its very foundation a great bridge of steel and concrete when a dog trots across it.

"Another arms oddity of Biblical interest was the ruse employed by Gideon, leader of only 300 hundred Israelites, who successfully engaged a vast host of Midianites and Amalekites that lay along in the valley like grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the sand by the seashore for multitude. Gideon's engines of destruction were 300 trumpets, 300 empty pitchers and 300 lamps within the pitchers. As the enemy's camp was approached during the night the pitchers were smashed, the lamps held aloft in the left hand, while terrifying blasts from the 300 trumpets spread consternation and terror among the sleepers who in darkness imagined that they had been attacked by a great army. The result was wholesale slaughter among themselves while the followers of Gideon watched.

"Greek Fire is a term which has been applied to various compounds through a succession of centuries going as far back as 424 B. C., when at the siege of Delium a cauldron filled with sulphur, pitch and charcoal was placed against the walls of the city, ignited and the flames intensified by a bellows attached to a hollow three-trunk. The most famous of the Greek Fires, however, was that invented by the architect Callinicus during the reign of Constantine. This particular engine of destruction was known as wet fire, on account of its property of bursting into flame when wetted. Thrown from siphons, it fell upon the ships of the Saracens causing them to burst into flames, and thus Constantinople was saved to the Byzantine emperors for the time being (668).

"Probably more far-reaching in its effect than any other engine of war was the introduction of gunpowder on the battlefield. It was one of the most potent factors contributing to the overthrow of the great feudal system, for it destroyed the superiority of the armored knight over the yeoman foot-soldier and as Carlyle has rightly said, 'It made all men of the same height.' Following the use of gunpowder in small arms came the invention and development of the cannon, a weapon which was employed with destructive effect against the walls of Constantinople when this historic city finally fell into the hands of the Mohammedans in 1453.

BEGIN HOT WATER
DRINKING IF YOU
DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated, if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

"NEDRA"

By George Barr McCutcheon

When two love-sick young people run off to be married—and aren't caught—they usually get married. It was different with Grace Vernon and Hugh Ridgway, though. Worn out by the social affairs given in honor of their approaching marriage, they elope in the wee sma' hours of a certain summer morning, and, being mistaken for house-breakers, by the gardener and other members of the household are pursued. A couple of cups as added starters make the chase even more interesting, and they don't breathe easily until, a couple of hours after climbing a rope ladder up the side of an ocean liner, they come out from their hiding place and find themselves at sea. Not nearly so much "at sea" then, however, as later, when Hugh finds that Grace is much smitten with Henry Veath, an old time friend of his.

Comes a typhoon, the ship is dashed on the rocks, and in the ensuing darkness and panic Hugh makes brave attempt to save one who clings closely to him—one he thinks to be Grace. Then blackness, and with returning consciousness and the light realization that he is cast away on a strange tropical isle—the isle of Nedra—with Lady Tenny!

The work of securing a jury to try M. W. Denney for the murder of John Rowles, which had been interrupted twice previously by the exhausting, first of the regular panel of fifty seven jurors, and for the second time Tuesday afternoon when Sheriff McCloskey's special venire of twenty-four was put through the mill and only one of the number added to the nine already secured, was resumed at 1:30 this afternoon, with the second special venire of twenty-four jurors summoned by the sheriff last night in their places ready to go upon the stand and attempt to pass the battery of lawyers primed for the occasion.

The examination of the list of jurors by court and the attorneys took up a half hour's time and at 1:45 W. W. Stewart, of Cooper, the first juror of the new venire was called. He was taken in hand by Ex-Judge Smith for the commonwealth and given a searching examination, by him and by Mr. Liveright for the defense. "I answered every question satisfactorily and was accepted as

Juror No. 11 at 2:10 p. m. After examining several other jurors the twelfth and final juror was accepted in person of Frank Washburn of Morris township. The court has been since Monday noon until 3 p. m. this afternoon finding twelve men to try Wm. Denney for the murder of Rowles. After swearing in Mr. Washburn a recess was taken for ten minutes to enable everybody to have a breathing spell after the arduous task of examining over ninety jurors.

Through the window of the jury room, the jurors could be seen perusing letters to wives and loved ones in preparation for their imprisonment in the jury box and jury room. Some of the jurors appear to have a tired look already, particularly the unfortunate ones who were selected last Monday and have been forced to sit through the examinations of others. It is quite a safe prediction to say that Sunday will see these men still doing jury duty on the same case. A full account of the trial will be given in tomorrow's Progress.

Boy Murderer to Have "Official" Mother

District Attorney Will Appoint One
To Look After Him

New Orleans, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—Willie Zimmer is to have an "official mother" to take the place of the one he murdered. She will be appointed next week by District Attorney Luceberg to mother Willie. Willie has lost some of his sulkeness as a result of the notoriety he has received and he has acquired a little dignity, and showed a sense of philosophy when he heard of the official mother plan. "You can't get another mother when your regular mother is dead," he said. "A fellow only has one mother and I killed mine."

He seemed to take indifferently the murder of his mother whom he murdered when she raised a broom to chastise him.

Will you be good to your new mother he was asked.

"Certainly," he replied, "but will she have an automobile," he asked. "I have always longed all my life for a 'regular motor ride.' The only ones I get are the ones I swipe on the back of big motor trucks. He then started to talk of movies. He said that Mary Pickford was his favorite film star and he hoped to go to see her when he got his new mother."

OHIO METHODISTS WANT STRINGENT DIVORCE LAWS

Zanesville, O., Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—Resolutions urging the governor and state legislature to enact more stringent divorce laws were to be adopted by more than 500 ministers and laymen of the Ohio Methodist conference in annual session here today, which will continue through Saturday.

The West Ohio Methodist conference meeting at Lima two weeks ago adopted a similar resolution.

A resolution favoring the constitutional amendment for national prohibition also will be adopted.

Isadore Lipetz will spend the holidays at Altoona.

HORSE RAISERS PROSPERING IN SPITE OF MOTORS

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—The European war has caused such a scarcity of horses in the United States that farmers who raise the adaptable Belgian, whose weight range from 1200 to 1500 pounds, makes it an excellent cavalry or police mount, are putting a high price on the animals which at the present time is being accepted by the horse dealer.

Who thousands of Percherons and Belgians, weighing from 1500 to 1800 pounds are at present employed in drawing cannon and ammunition wagons on the battlefields, they are not so commonly used here in the lighter animal.

A cross between Percheron stock and the American horses makes an almost ideal general purpose animal, and a well matched team will bring from $500 to $600, where formerly a team could be purchased at $200 to $300. There is no importation of horses at this time and therefore, American farmers are short of the adaptable Belgians, which in part accounts for the increased value.

A SUGGESTION AND AN OFFER

The dreaded infantile paralysis scourge has abated to such an extent that the Commissioner of Health has seen fit to authorize the lifting of the quarantine forbidding attendance at Sunday School of those under the age of sixteen years. All will rejoice in this piece of news, and especially officers of schools that have been disorganized through the enforcement of the quarantine.

A number of Sunday Schools in this city and in this county have already made plans for a big Rally day to be observed next Sunday in celebration of the event and others are considering it at this time. It is very fitting and proper that Sunday Schools take advantage of this opportunity for a grand rally of all their former scholars.

We suggest that every Sunday School in Clearfield, Curwensville, Woodland and every town in this county lay plans at once to gather back to their fold those who have been forced to forego the pleasure of attending Sunday School. We further suggest that the different Sunday School superintendents get busy this very evening on this proposition and make a concerted effort towards getting every available man, woman and child to attend Sunday School next Sunday.

Provided the Sunday School superintendents take our suggestion, we offer to print, without charge, any publicity matter they may prepare, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The articles or advertisements, of you choose to call it that, can be prepared by a committee representing the different Sunday Schools of Clearfield. Remember however that time is short and the offering of the committee must be in our hands tomorrow morning.

In our rounds we have been able to see a few men interested in Sunday School work and they are enthusiastic over this idea. We have no doubt that the Daily Spirit will lend their valuable aid to the movement.

GREEK CABINET RESIGNS AND WAR ASSURED

In Meeting at Tokio Chamber
of Commerce Takes Action
in Regard to Tariffs

JAPAN AND BRITAIN JOIN

Tokyo, Sept. 2.—(By Mail)—After the war the Allies should have uniform, comparatively low tariff wall for each other and a higher tariff wall for the rest of the world, according to resolutions adopted at the annual congress of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Japan whose meeting had adjourned at Tokyo.

The congress endorsed the wartime measures proposed by the Paris Economic conference, but expressed new desires as to the post-bellum policy.

"As regards post-bellum measures, the Entente Allies should protect themselves against commercial aggression by tariffs and other means and promote economic relations among themselves," state the resolutions. "For this purpose the Allies should freely open their national resources to each other, and should refrain from a preferential policy in the matter of import duties so far as the Allies themselves are concerned."

Then the resolutions express the belief that the Allies should amend their treatment of goods exported from Japan.

"The treaties between Japan and England or France are not impartial," the resolutions read, "in that there are fewer preferential tariffs on the other side than this. Such partiality should be corrected. Between Russia and Japan there are no preferential tariff arrangements, therefore, these arrangements should now be made."

"Regarding the preferential tariffs between one of the Allies and its Dominions, it is desirable that no Power of the Allies should establish preferential tariffs with its Dominions lest Japanese export trade be adversely affected."

The latter resolution evidently was voted with an eye to the preference extended to British goods by Canada and Australia.

Following is a suggestion made by the congress to British chambers of commerce

"Japan and Great Britain are co-operating to gain mutual benefits. The British trade orders should be carried out less rigorously, and the British chambers of commerce are asked to exert their influence to the

HARDWARE FIRM BUILDING BIG NEW GARAGE

Old Firm of Clearfield Will Take Over Building Occupied by the Lee Garage

LEE GARAGE WILL ENLARGE

Routh & Swartzle the well known hardware and farm implement dealers, are about to embark in the automobile business on a large scale and have arranged to take over the building occupied by the Lee Garage company on the rear end of Dr. S. C. Stewart's Second street property just as soon as that concern removes from the location to their huge, up-to-date garage to be located on the Finkbeiner property, corner Locust and Third streets, recently purchased for that purpose.

It is the intention of Routh & Swartzle to greatly enlarge the business and they will provide adequate facilities to handle it by building a large addition to the present garage. Ground was broken for the new building and it will be rushed to completion before the snow flies. The new building will front on Locust street and it will be built around the Bell Telephone office building. The main addition will front on Locust street 355 feet and will extend back 60 feet. A 10x25 foot L. fronting on the alley and immediately joining the present building will also be a part of the construction.

The building will be one story high and of brick and concrete construction and will be absolutely fire proof.

end that only luxuries are included in the list of prohibited imports."

It is suggested to the Petrograd Chamber of Commerce that this body, in view of the especially friendly relations that exist today between Russia and Japan, take steps to remove the present obstacles to trade between these two nations. It is stated that the Russian ban on imports affects Japanese commerce to a considerable degree.

Copies of the resolutions have been sent all the Allied nations.

HUGHES BEGINS CAMPAIGN IN PENNA. TODAY

Speaks to Thousands of Steel
Men in Pittsburgh This Afternoon

VISITS "WORKSHOP OF WORLD"

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—This city gave Charles E. Hughes a cordial welcome this afternoon when he came to make five speeches at least, possibly six in the course of his automobile tour through the big industrial plants and at the Exposition hall. His voice which showed signs of weakness at Canton and elsewhere in Ohio was stronger after the comparatively restful period between Canton and Pittsburgh. He hopes that nothing will curtail his afternoon program. On leaving Canton his managers feared it might be necessary for him to cut the number of his speeches down before dinner time. A crowd of 10,000 greeted him at the Union depot and cheered heartily.

He is scheduled to address between 35,000 and 50,000 iron and steel workers. This morning he visited the "work shops of the world" at McKeesport and Homestead. Tonight at the Expo hall he will expound to his audience the principals of the Republican party. This afternoon he will visit the schools. Mrs. Hughes will not visit with him but will be the guest of the National Suffrage association at the William Penn hotel.

Our store will be closed all day Thursday and Friday, September 28 and 29, and October 7 on account of holiday.

CHARGES STILL UNSETTLED IN DEHASS CASE

Report From DuBois That Revolution Has Been Made Is Apparently Without Foundation

PHYSICIANS IN CHARGE NOW

The report from DuBois to the effect that all the charges against W. Rush DeHass, the former DuBois resident, who was arrested in Altoona and confessed to having been the man who robbed Clearfield hotels of a number of traveling bags, is a little bit premature according to Chief of Police McHenry.

During the three weeks Mr. DeHass had lost himself he was in this vicinity, alleging that he spent several nights in a barn at Barrett station. While here he had a check cashed for $2.50 at one store and another for $22.50 at another. Both were returned unpaid and in addition to the sums mentioned The Dimeling management wants reimbursement to the extent of $55 covering the value of the bags and their contents taken from that hotel, while the Witzner Inn demands $39.25 for their losses.

Chief McHenry swore out two warrants for Mr. DeHass and sent them to District Attorney Patterson of Blair county who notified the chief that the warrants had been placed in the hands of the sheriff of Blair county for service just as soon as Dr. Sommers of the Blair county hospital decided that Mr. DeHass' mental and physical condition was such that he could be taken away. He will then be brought to Clearfield to answer to these charges unless legislation is made in the meantime and the prosecution called off.

300,000 Out in New York Sympathy Strike

Jewish Holidays Render Complete Count Impossible

New York, Sept. 27.—(By United Press)—Three hundred thousand workmen in greater New York were out today when a general strike of sympathizers of the street railway employees became effective today. Most of the Hebrew trades were represented and an accurate count cannot be given because of the Jewish New Year holidays. Longshore men who have been supporting the movement did not strike. Other organizations are expected to strike tomorrow.

TODAY BEGINNING OF JEWISH NEW YEAR

New York, Sept. 27.—Josh Haskana, the Jewish New York, begins this evening at sunset, and for two days will be observed by orthodox Jews throughout the world. The reformed, or unorthodox Jews, will celebrate one day at the beginning of the New Year.

The year that is ushered in is 5677. The event is second in importance in religious significance in the Hebrew faith, Easter, or the Feast of the Passover, being the first. From time immemorial, in the orthodox churches, the two days of Rosh Haskana have been observed with prayer and worship in almost exactly the same manner. It is a time especially set apart for repentance and purification.

At sunset the rabbis around the world will summon the Jewish believers to the synagogues with a blast upon the ram's horn, or shofar. The method of calling the congregation together has an especial symbolic significance. The use of the ram's horn dates back to the almost prehistoric days, shrouded in the half-light of tradition, when those musical instruments were about the only means which the wandering tribes of Israel, who were shepherds, possessed of calling to worship.

In the orthodox congregations, which cling most tenaciously to the old-time ritual, one of the customs is for the men to appear in the temples wearing shrouds to typify the significance of the day as a reminder of death. This part of the ritual is not now used in the reformed temples.

WAR AND THE FARMER

Does the farmer profit by the European war? Has it affected his prices, or is it only the manufacturers who have greatly prospered thereby? Of course, everyone knows that when times are good and the factories are running full time and paying good wages, there is a good demand for the products of the farm, but few realize the amount of food stuffs which it takes to feed the great European armies and those industrial armies whose entire time is devoted in Europe to manufacturing munitions of war. The figures throw some light on the question. During the first two years of the war the United States sold to the belligerents gunpowder, cartridges, explosives and firearms to the value of $523,000,000. But sold to them food stuffs to the value of $1,938,000,000 or nearly four times as much, measured in value, as of actual munitions of war. Can any intelligent man fail to appreciate what this has meant to the farmers of this country? Why, the value of the exports of food stuffs was sufficient to pay a net profit of $300 a year on 6,666,000 farms. When the war ends the 30,000,000 men now fighting and making ammunition in Europe will return to their normal pursuits. Now they are only consumers of food stuffs. Then a large percentage of them will become producers as well. The farmer is, therefore, as vitally interested in industrial preparedness as the mechanic and the artisan.

Today's Geographic Study of
The Great European War Zone

"The mysterious British 'tank', described as a car of death resembling a ponderous, slow-moving steel caterpillar, is the current 'enfant terrible' in the large family of strange engines of destruction sired by the God of War," says a bulletin issued today by the National Geographic society.

"The modern fighting man has been so schooled to expect unique and powerful inventions designed to destroy human life that the 'tanks' have inspired more curiosity than terror, but far different has been the story of the vast breed of monsters that have engendered panic in the hearts of soldiers in ages past.

"Reviewing the history of warfare among civilized nations, one of the earliest engines of destruction whose fame has been perpetuated on the pages of legendary epic, was the great wooden horse which the crafty Ulysses left on the plains of Ilium, and which the Trojans believed to be an offering sacred to the goddess Athena. Convinced by the false Sinon, the Trojans razed their walls in order that the 'gift' of the Greeks might be brought into the city. After nightfall the warriors hidden inside the wooden animal crept out, threw open the gates of the city and admitted their companions, thus bringing about the destruction of the city of Priam and wreaking vengeance upon the people who had sheltered Paris and the fair but false Helen of Troy.

"An engine of war which emerges from the cloud of legend and takes its place among historical actualities was that employed by Alexander the Great in his seven-months' siege of the famous Phoenician metropolis, Tyre. This ancient city was strongly situated on an island and as there were no long range catapults in the fourth century before the Christian era, Alexander conceived the plan of building a mole or causeway from the mainland to the island. This engineering enterprise was hampered by the Tyrians who launched blazing ships against the assailants as the work piles to hold in place the rock and debris that formed a roadway over which the army was to march. In order to protect his construction corps Alexander devised an engine of war great towers covered with green hides. These were set up as shields against the floating flames of the enemy and the result was one of the memorable victories in Alexander's conquest of the eastern world.

"One of the most terrifying 'engines of war' of ancient times was the battle elephant employed by the Pyrrhus, Alexander's cousin, in the first of the famous 'Pyrrhic' victories over the Romans. Twenty of these huge beasts were used against the enemies of the Tarantines at the battle of Heraclea in 280 B. C. The strange, moving mountains of flesh caused a wave of fear to sweep over the Romans and they fled from the field of carnage, but after one experience with the animals their courage returned and henceforth the war elephant was more of a curiosity than an effective engine.

"One of the simplest and yet one of the most effective inventions of ancient times was the javelin with a point of soft iron employed by Julius Caesar in one of his Gallic wars. The Roman legionaries hurled these weapons against the shields of their enemies. The iron head penetrated the outer covering of bull's hide, but flattened out against the hardwood or metal back of the shield, and thus became hooked to this protector. The shanks of the dangling javelins so impeded the movements of the barbarian soldiers that they were forced either to throw away their shields and fight in close combat against the Romans or else stop long enough to disencumber themselves from this unique weapon which may properly be called the dum-dum javelin, the progenitor of the soft-nose or dum-dum bullet of today.

"Perhaps the strangest engines of destruction in the history of the world were the seven trumpets of ram's horn which the priests of Israel blew

as they encompassed the walls of Jericho once each day for six successive days and seven times on the seventh day. After the final blast the hosts of Israel gave a great shout and the walls fell flat, according to the Biblical account in the Book of Joshua. Those who endeavor to explain all miracles on the theory that they are the result of extraordinary applications of the natural law have seen in this remarkable event a demonstration of the vast destructive power of sympathetic vibration—the same principle which has been known to shake to its very foundation a great bridge of steel and concrete when a dog trots across it.

"Another arms oddity of Biblical interest was the ruse employed by Gideon, leader of only 300 hundred Israelites, who successfully engaged a vast host of Midianites and Amalekites that lay along in the valley like grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the sand by the seaside for multitude. Gideon's engines of destruction were 300 trumpets, 300 empty pitchers and 300 lamps within the pitchers. As the enemy's camp was approached during the night the pitchers were smashed, the lamps held aloft in the left hand, while terrifying blasts from the 300 trumpets spread consternation and terror among the sleepers who in darkness imagined that they had been attacked by a great army. The result was wholesale slaughter among themselves while the followers of Gideon watched.

"Greek Fire is a term which has been applied to various compounds through a succession of centuries going as far back as 424 B. C., when at the siege of Delium a cauldron filled with sulphur, pitch and charcoal was placed against the walls of the city, ignited and the flames intensified by a bellows attached to a hollow three-trunk. The most famous of the Greek Fires, however, was that invented by the architect Callinicus during the reign of Constantine. This particular engine of destruction was known as wet fire, on account of its property of bursting into flame when wetted. Thrown from siphons, it fell upon the ships of the Saracens causing them to burst into flames, and thus Constantinople was saved to the Byzantine emperors for the time being (668).

"Probably more far-reaching in its effect than any other engine of war was the introduction of gun-powder on the battlefield. It was one of the most potent factors contributing to the overthrow of the great feudal system, for it destroyed the superiority of the armored knight over the yeoman foot-soldier and as Carlyle has rightly said, 'It made all men of the same height.' Following the use of gunpowder in small arms came the invention and development of the cannon, a weapon which was employed with destructive effect against the walls of Constantinople when this historic city finally fell into the hands of the Mohammedans in 1453.

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Clearfield.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Clearfield citizen. Can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had than the testimony of a Clearfield citizen. Mrs. Paul Kline, 309 Merrill St., Clearfield, says: My back ached and throbbled all the time and it was particularly painful for me to bend my body in any way. The trouble kept me awake at night and I got very little rest. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at A. M. Thatcher's Drug Store. Three boxes entirely removed the trouble and since that time, my back and kidneys have given little or no annoyance.

BEGIN HOT WATER
DRINKING IF YOU
DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated, if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

"NEDRA"

By George Barr McCutcheon

When two love-sick young people run off to be married—and aren't caught—they usually get married. It was different with Grace Vernon and Hugh Ridgway, though. Worn out by the social affairs given in honor of their approaching marriage, they elope in the wee sma' hours of a certain summer morning, and, being mistaken for house-breakers, by the gardener and other members of the household are pursued. A couple of cups as added starters make the chase even more interesting, and they don't breathe easily until, a couple of hours after climbing a rope ladder up the side of an ocean liner, they come out from their hiding place and find themselves at sea. Not nearly so much "at sea" then, however, as later, when Hugh finds that Grace is much smitten with Henry Veath, an old time friend of his.

Comes a typhoon, the ship is dashed on the rocks, and in the ensuing darkness and panic Hugh makes brave attempt to save one who clings closely to him—one he thinks to be Grace. Then blackness, and with returning consciousness and the light, the realization that he is cast away on a strange tropical isle—the isle of Nedra—with Lady Tenny!

Add to this that they are found and worshipped as two Gods by the savage natives on the isle—that their

Mrs. Mary Benson left today for Westport, Md., for a ten days visit with kin folks.

Mrs. Hall, widow of Ellis Hall, who was a member of Co. K, First Rifles, of Knox, called on town friends yesterday.

Mrs. S. W. Karstetter and youngest daughter left via P. R. R. yesterday for Pittsburgh for a short stay with friends.

Mrs. Dr. Boyer and her daughter, Mrs. Rutter, both of Clearfield, were guests in the home of Captain and Mrs. Kratzer yesterday.

Miss Dora Frost, of Clearfield, called on Curwensville friends yesterday who were pleased to see that she is rapidly recovering from a serious illness.

A social dance was held at the Moose room last evening at which a number of young folks "tripped the fantastic toe" until the wee sma hours.

Ki Bressler misjudged the running of a saw yesterday and in consequence the teeth of the blade took a slice from the thumb of the left hand.

Mrs. Annie Robertson, of Clarksburg, W. Va., left yesterday for her southern home after spending almost a week with a sister in Clearfield and several days with relatives in this place.

The Penn Public Service company has purchased a Ford runabout machine which will be used exclusively by the Curwensville employes in going and returning from their work out of town.

The High School football squad have two more games scheduled for October. One with Lock Haven and the other with Punxsutawney. On Thanksgiving Day they will lock horns with the famous Cumberland, Md., eleven.

Plans have been drawn and arrangements complete for the building of a 50x120 addition to the west end of the yard at Beckford fire clay plant. A large straw shed is now in course of construction.

Clemente Pestello, an Italian, was before Judge Kratzer last night on a warrant charging him with disturbing the domestic peace of a neighboring family. He was placed under a $50 bond to forever keep the peace and subscribed to the payment of costs. All parties concerned live out at Nautlon.

Mr. G. W. Creighton, superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad, and his wife, Altoona, Mr. J. K. Johnston, superintendent of the T. & C. Division, and his wife, Tyrone, accompanied by several other ladies arrived in Curwensville yesterday afternoon on a special train. The party remained in town until about four p. m. when they departed for Tyrone and Altoona, their respective homes.

At an early hour yesterday morning the home of Boyd Crissman on Susquehanna avenue was entered by night marauders but were frightened away before they had time to secure any loot. Entrance was made through a window. Mr. Crissman was in the house alone but heard them, he getting up out of bed and making a noise which frightened the prowlers so badly that they made their escape before he had time to get down the stairway.

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic Club held session last evening in the Public School building. The attendance was not as large as it might have been, but notwithstanding a fair turnout responded. President Russell being unable to be present, Rev. I. P. Hawkins acted as presiding officer pro tem. The program started off with music by the quartet "On the Mill Dam" which drew a round of applause. Invocation by Rev. I. P. Hawkins, followed. A solo by Miss Olive King was well received. A recitation which was exceedingly well delivered entitled "Thirty years with a Show" by Miss Rachel Pratt, was one of the best numbers on the list and as she finished was roundly applauded. "Perfume of the Violet" a wait, by the quartet smoothed the way for an address by Rev. J. H. Cooke entitled "Take it Back Day," the speaker bringing out a number of strong points relative to the subject. The business of the club was next considered. Committee on night school reported correspondence with authorities at Harrisburg who had arranged to send a representative up here to investigate but owing to the schools starting in so late his action was responded and the committee could only report progress along that line. A communication was read from the American Civic Association, advising, among other things, that the Curwensville Club unite and become members; also a pamphlet bearing on the better government of towns and villages. Cleaning up day will probably be set for some time during the latter part of October. School Janitor Weaver, who had been giving his time to the club without compensation up until the present time, was unanimously elected club janitor, his salary to be fixed by President Russell. Any person can become a member of the club by simply signing the constitution. Secretary-Treasurer reported bills to the amount of $6.35 which was ordered paid. No report was had from the play ground committee as the chairman was absent. Music by the string quartet, "Fighting Strength," a march, brought the evening's meeting to a close, with the exception of the appointment of the committee for next month's program who are Miss Maud Elder, Miss Stella Chilcote and Mrs. Joseph Higgs. It goes without saying that one of the most pleasing features of the evening's entertainment was the fine and well rendered music furnished by the string quartet, composed of Messrs. Paul Harley and Samuel Bressler and Miss Hawkins, who presided at the piano.

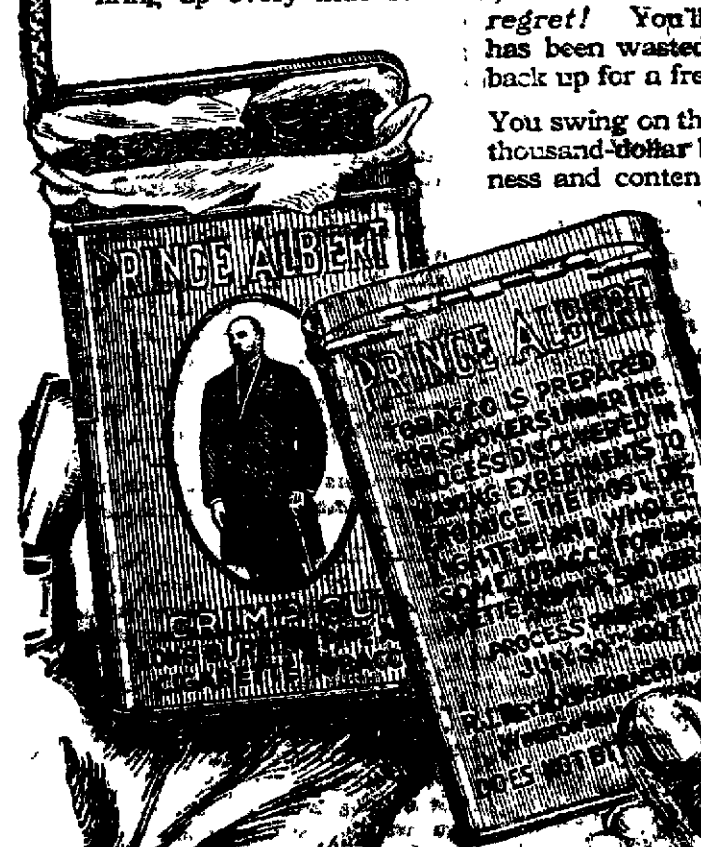

Mrs. M. P. McDonald and daughter Margaret returned yesterday from a visit to DuBois.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurt or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a wellknown authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurt or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

THE MISSING ONE

Dedicated to My Dear Brother Earl C. Flegal
He was by brother gay
Till Death took him away
Never to return.
Till Death has reared its grim
And when I think of him
Amid this worldly din
I have shed many a tear
And wished that he were here.

When I last looked on his face
I then knew that his place
Could never be refilled.
As he lay there at rest
I prayed he might be blest;
Then we layed him away to rest
In the cold bare ground.
